Freedom of Press U.S. Salary Inflation On Tax Assessments

The current bulletin of the Arkansas Press Association carries, in connection with the publication of the classified Pentagon papers, the following quotation from Justice Hugo Black of the U.S. Supreme Court on freedom of the press:

"The press was to serve the governed, not the governors. The government's power to censor the press was abolished so that the press would remain forever free to censure the government."

If you want to know one of the major reasons why inflation worsens and the cost of living continues to climb you should read an article by Elliott Carlson in the April 4 issue of Wall Street Journal.

Carlson reports that a man working for a private aerospace factory for $10,500 a year was snatched away by the federal government and paid $20,800—just one of hundreds of such cases.

Furthermore, writes Carlson, most federal jobs are benefitted by automatic pay raises—resulting in a salary increase of 75 per cent for civil servants in the last nine years.

In other words, overpaid federal bureaucrats are an important factor in making the inflation picture steadily worse.

The Arkansas Gazette reports that Tennessee is preparing to write into a proposed new state constitution a deliberately uneven schedule for assessing property for taxation.

Here is the way different classes of property would be assessed:

Utilities at 45 to 55 per cent.

Business and commercial property at 35 to 45 per cent.

Residential at 25 to 35 per cent.

Farms at 20 to 25 per cent.

In view of today's inflated and unprofitable market values your editor in recent years has suggested that farm assessments should be classified according to the use the land is put to, or the annual income it produces—a system which I believe is now being followed by the Arkansas state-wide assessment co-ordinator.

Another solution to the inflated assessment problem: Of course is to tackle it from the state income tax angle. Formerly I opposed increasing state income taxes, on the grounds that the federals had already monopolized this field. But our position has been changed by the failure to reform property assessment practices—the fairest of all tax procedures being that which taxes a man according to the amount of money he earns annually.

Bloodmobile Returning

The Red Cross Bloodmobile returns to Hope on Monday, August 16th and will be set up in the Fellowship Hall of the First Presbyterian Church. This will be the first visit of fiscal 1972 and Bloodmobile Chairman Haskell Jones hopes the year can get off to a good start with 120 pints on this visit. The facilities are geared for 20 pints per hour for 6 hours. To protect your family's blood supply you must give at least once a year. By doing so, you can get Red Cross Blood at places outside Hempstead County. The blood you give in Hope assures blood for every body in the county as long as we meet our quota.

Acquitted in Murder Case

LITTLE ROCK (AP)— A circuit court jury returned a verdict of innocent Thursday against Andrew Carey, 28, of Little Rock.

Carey, charged with the fatal shooting of Eugene Preston, 18, of Leighton, Ala., in September 1969, originally was charged with first-degree murder in the death, but Judge Charles W. Light reduced the charge to second-degree murder Wednesday.

FIRST FRUIT of an initial effort at space cooperation, Soviet scientists look over a mockup "international" probe assembly at NASA's Manned Spacecraft Center in Houston. The visit by some 20 space specialists followed up the U.S.-Soviet agreement of October, 1970, to work out compatible rendezvous and docking facilities for American and Soviet spacecraft.

Hope Schools to Open on August 26 Spacemen to See Earth Eclipse Sun on Way to Saturday's Splashdown

By HOWARD BENEDICT
AP Aerospace Writer

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP)— Apollo 15's three moon explorers, streaking home for a splashdown in the Pacific Ocean, have ringside seats at a space spectacular today.

As the earth exerts more and more of a pull on their space-ship Endeavour, David R. Scott, James B. Irwin and Alfred M. Worden will view and attempt to photograph a phenomenon which can be seen only by space crews: an eclipse of the sun by the earth.

Only twice before have spacemen been in a position to see the huge ball earth slide across the face of the sun. The Apollo 12 crew and an earlier Gemini flight were also in the right place at the right time.

The three astronauts also plan an hour-long news conference today with newsmen covering the mission and another experiment seeking information on mysterious cosmic lights which all Apollo crews have reported.

It is important that an enrollment card with complete information be filled out on each student. This should be completed by 11 a.m. at which time all buses will run.

A half day schedule will be followed from Monday, August 30 through Friday, September 3. Full day schedules will begin Tuesday, September 7. Lunchrooms will open on Tuesday, September 7.

There will be no school on Labor Day, Monday, September 6, according to Superintendent James H. Jones.

Not Visible Yet: Things We Would Like to See But Probably Will Not

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)— Some things we'd like to see:

A historical novel with a picture of a horse's bosom on the cover.

A politician who never promised anything he couldn't deliver.

An author who thought his publisher had spent enough money to advertise his book.

A surgeon who left a sponge inside a patient and then had the savor faire to add the cost of the lost sponge to his bill.

A bus driver who could smile while you went through the ceremony of paying for the ride by dropping pennies one by one into the fare box, counting them aloud while you did so and the other passengers joined in the chant.

The Indians sued for fraud on the grounds they misrepresented the value of Manhattan Island when they sold it to Dutch settlers for $24 and a keg of whiskey.

A rich dog who left all his money to the family cat—and never bothered at all to mention his master in his will.

Two bald men a half mile apart on a crowded beach exchange messages by light reflections sent in Morse code from their sunlit pates.

The Statue of Liberty wearing a miniskirt on a breezy day.

A motor car with its exhaust pipe sticking out the radiator—so the driver would have the privilege of smelling its fumes first.

A pair of sox, a razor blade and a light bulb that would wear, shave and burn through-out the buyer's lifetime.

SAIGON (AP)— Viet Cong mines ripped through a U.S. armored vehicle and a South Vietnamese bus in separate attacks south of Da Nang on Thursday, killing four American troops and 20 Vietnamese civilians.

Gunfire killed another American in that attack, and two American soldiers and 16 South Vietnamese civilians were reported wounded.

The attacks occurred less than 10 miles apart.

A six-week lull in major battlefield action was interrupted by a 200-round mortar barrage against South Vietnamese positions along the demilitarized zone near Fire Base Fuller. It was the heaviest barrage in more than a month, and the South Vietnamese Command said it wounded some soldiers but caused no deaths.

The U.S. Command reported the loss of two more American aircraft, an OH6 light observation helicopter shot down in the Mekong Delta Thursday, and a propeller-driven A1 Skyraider was shot last Monday while supporting Laotian forces in the Plain of Jars. The pilot of the Skyraider was killed, and two helicopter crewmen were wounded. The losses raised the total number of U.S. aircraft reported lost in the war to 7,895.

Lt. Col. Le Trung Hien, the spokesman for the South Vietnamese Command, said the South Vietnamese bus was traveling on a dirt road from one district town to another when it ran over a buried pressure mine 19 miles southwest of Da Nang.

Seven miles to the south, a dud 250-pound U.S. bomb fashioned into a mine was exploded by the Viet Cong in front of an American armored patrol from the 196th Brigade.

The Americal Division, which operates south of Da Nang, said that mines and booby traps have accounted for at least 50 per cent of the division's casualties during the past six months.

The action was one of three reported by the U.S. Command in which American patrols appeared to be on offensive operations.

Patrols from the 1st Air Cavalry Division killed five enemy troops in a brief clash 48 miles northeast of Saigon and captured nearly 10 tons of food in a search 17 miles farther, the Command said. There were no American casualties.

The U.S. Command was asked to reconcile the patrol actions with President Nixon's news conference statement two days ago that American forces in Vietnam are now in defensive positions.

Thousands of Steel Workers Are Laid Off Economy Report Shows More Persons Working But Unemployment Up

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Five days after the steel industry and union agreed on a new contract without a walk-out, tens of thousands of steel workers have been laid off and many hearths are cold as steel users draw from inventories stockpiled against a strike.

Layoffs were not unexpected, but some officials of the AFL-CIO United Steelworkers of America said the magnitude of the actions came as a surprise. Others said they saw no reason for undue concern.

Spokesmen for the steel companies said employee callbacks will depend on a pickup in steel orders. Several said they expected demand would be low for the next several weeks or even months.

In the Pittsburgh-Western Pennsylvania area alone, an estimated 47,000 steelworkers are either officially laid off or temporarily idled. "We expected layoffs after the contract but we didn't think it would be anything like this," said a spokesman at USW headquarters in Pittsburgh.

But Francis Stark, a USW international representative, said in Cleveland that the workers had expected to be off without pay for about a month, and with the early settlement and layoffs, "most of them figure, hell, this is a second bonus"—a chance to take a vacation or work on the house.

"The workers are not extra concerned because they were geared for a strike in the first place," said Stark. "I think morale is real good."

He added that the workers were "not hurting too bad" with supplemental unemployment. He said the least a worker would get would be $80 a week with unemployment benefits and the average was about $110.

In Gary, Ind., Andrew White, a union District 31 director, said, "We had expected some layoffs but now it seems like this thing is going to be a lot rougher than we had expected. Frankly we hadn't foreseen anything like this."

One of the Gary steelworkers laid off before the settlement put it this way: "I knew I was going to have some company going through the unemployment line, but I didn't think practically the whole damn plant was going to be down here with me!"

About 34,500 steelworkers in the Chicago area, including the Calumet district of northwestern Indiana, were laid off because of the cutbacks in orders.

U.S. Steel announced Wednesday it was recalling only 19,000 of 38,000 employees at two Chicago area plants. It said steel-making would start again next

Alexander Names Drug, Alcohol Group

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP)— Rep. Bill Alexander, D-Ark., said Thursday night he will name a committee to study problems of alcohol and drug abuse in the 1st Congressional District.

Alexander made the statement in a speech to the 47th annual convention of the Arkansas State Firefighters Association at Jonesboro.

Alexander said the drug problem in Arkansas was "alarming."

"Indiscriminate use of drugs and marijuana has increased substantially in the past 12 months," he said. "A year ago I was unwilling to admit we had a problem, but today I can tell you that it is very serious."

The firefighters' convention opened Thursday and continues through Saturday. About 300 firemen in the state are attending the meeting.

WASHINGTON (AP)— Seventeen years after the Supreme Court proclaimed school desegregation to be the law of the land, there is deep disagreement throughout the country over exactly what the law requires.

Since its original ruling in 1954, the Supreme Court and a number of lower federal courts have decreed methods of achieving desegregation. Each of these decisions, in turn, has become the focal point of a new argument.

Today the central issue is busing, a word that has come to mean transporting black and white children to schools outside their neighborhoods until

Pryor Gets Attention of House Elders

By CARL C. CRAFT
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)— House elders, perhaps moved by a young congressman's innovative committee effort to aid America's old folks, say they've at last found time to officially inspect problems of the aged.

"As long as the job gets done, I don't care who does it," says 36-year-old Rep. David Pryor, D-Ark., whose unofficial operations at a service-station parking lot cease Sept. 1 when his young volunteers go back to college.

Pryor had failed earlier this year to set up a formal House committee on the aging. He was told there was no room for his group on Capitol Hill, and was politely banned from keeping his three trailers berthed on government grounds.

On Thursday, a day after his trailer team conducted a three-hour forum on the elderly, it was announced Rules Committee Chairman William M. Colmer, D-Miss., 81, had asked Government Operations Committee Chairman Chet Holifield, D-Calif., 67, to arrange official hearings.

Holifield said he had assigned the job to the special-studies

All Around Town

By The Star Staff

Capt. Milton Mosier of the State Police has announced that a Saturation Force will be patrolling Hempstead County highways this weekend. The force will consist of units pulled from other areas. There have been 12 traffic fatalities in the county so far this year, most of which have happened on weekends. The State Police's goal will be to slow everything down so that everyone can enjoy a safe weekend. Radar and vascor (a speed-timing device similar to radar) will be used to check speeding. The Saturation Force will patrol the area through Sunday night.

Five Hempstead County area high school graduates were among 94 incoming freshmen who attended orientation at Southern State College on August 4. Students were Steven D. Sutton of Hope, Nathaniel Wyatt of Fulton, Sheryl Lynn Hearon and Linda Delorise Watson, both of Ozan and Jimmy Doy Rook of Washington. Visiting students met with advisors to plan a class schedule

WASHINGTON (AP)— The Senate has shelved until Sept. 13 a compromise draft extension bill President Nixon wanted passed now. When the bill does come up it will probably face a filibuster.

WASHINGTON (AP)— The Senate has approved the most comprehensive election-spending reform bill in a quarter-century, sending it to an uncertain fate in the house.

WASHINGTON (AP)— Congress planned to embark on a month-long summer vacation today after Senate action on a measure to keep federal agencies in business until Oct. 15.

WASHINGTON (AP)— Americans will spend at least $105 billion for medical care in 1974 and even the most ambitious proposal for federal health insurance would add less than $12 billion to the bill, according to a government survey.

$13.8 Million State Funds Not Spent

LITTLE ROCK (AP)— Gov. Dale Bumpers said Thursday $13.8 million in general revenues that were available to state agencies was not spent during the fiscal year that ended June 30.

Bumpers attributed much of the savings to governmental reorganization and the freeze on hiring and purchasing that was imposed in February.

Bumpers said the balance should allow the state to fulfill its entire $23 million commitment to construction at state institutions from general revenues through the biennium. He said he would begin releasing much of the money to begin construction if tax collections this summer continue to live up to forecasts.

The governor said the balance was greater than almost any previous year. He said the balances accumulated despite the fact that tax collections barely funded all the allotments to state agencies made in the Revenue and Stabilization Act for the 1970-71 fiscal year.

Campaign Bill Uncertain in House

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has approved the most comprehensive election-spending reform bill in a quarter century, sending it to an uncertain fate in the House.

Aimed chiefly at the high cost of political advertising on radio and television, the bill includes tight new restrictions on reporting campaign expenses and contributions and would clear a long standing legal obstacle to broadcast debates between presidential candidates.

"We have to bring these expenses, these astronomical expenses for a political campaign under reasonable restraint. I think we've done that," Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I., floor manager of the bill, said after it was approved Thursday 88 to 2. The only dissenters were Arizona Republicans Barry M. Goldwater and Paul Fannin.

The bill was forged during three days of debate notable for a lack of partisan bickering between Republicans, who face 1972 with their treasury overflowing, and Democrats, who are still deeply in debt from 1968 and would like to trim the odds.

"This argument, this was to be a Republican or Democratic bill, has disappeared in thin air," Pastore said shortly before passage.

Although numerous votes did follow party lines, Pastore compromised readily on all the major issues in hopes of avoiding another presidential veto.

Nixon last year killed a narrower bill that mainly imposed spending limits on broadcast ads and repealed section 315a of the Federal Communications Act, which has prevented debates between presidential candidates by frivolous as well as serious. The President objected because that bill did not cover all media.

Under the present bill, any candidate for federal office could spend no more for political advertisement than 10 cents for each eligible voter in his district, state or in the case of a presidential race—the nation. Direct mail is exempt from the provision.

This would limit major party presidential candidates to about $8.4 million for broadcasting in 1972 compared with more than $12 million Republicans spent for Nixon in 1968 and the $6 million spent by Democrats for the top of their ticket.

The bill also establishes a six-member federal elections commission to oversee its provisions.

Key sticking point in the House may be equal-time repeal, which the Senate, with administration backing, made applicable to all federal candidates in the key compromise.

There is strong opposition in the House to extending repeal for any but presidential and vice presidential candidates. But reliable sources say House Republicans are not only willing to push for passage of a bill by October but are willing to compromise on the equal-time repeal, possibly by making it apply only to presidential, vice presidential and senatorial candidates.

Critical of Today Show Incident

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Republican congressman has called for an investigation of the NBC-TV "Today" show incident in which newsman Edwin Newman cut off comedian George Jessel after the entertainer referred to The New York Times and The Washington Post as the Russian Communist party paper, Pravda.

"Since when have we conferred a censor role on news commentators in this country," Ohio's William H. Harsha asked in a newsletter Thursday.

In New York, NBC News president Reuben Frank said Newman "acted quickly and responsibly to correct a situation that was getting out of hand."

During the July 30 interview, Jessel was discussing his USO tours and complained Americans sometimes get misleading pictures of conditions in their country. Jessel made references to "Pravda—excuse me, The New York Times," and to "Pravda excuse me, the Washington Post."

there are no more schools either all-black or all-white.

That disagreement, if not confusion, exists at the highest levels of government was demonstrated this week when President Nixon publicly repudiated a school desegregation plan drawn up by his own Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

The President's position underscores the historical fact that despite what any court decrees, the "law of the land" on desegregation or any other subject is the interpretation adopted by those responsible for enforcing it.

Until Nixon's intervention, the shapers of the basic law laid down by the Supreme Court had been the judges of the federal district and appellate courts, particularly those in the South.

It was these courts that fashioned the doctrine of de jure and de facto segregation and narrowed the application of the law to de jure segregation, which meant the South, where separate school systems for blacks and whites had been established by law.

More than any other aspect this has been the cause of resentment and bitterness in the South, particularly since it has been shown that Southern schools now have a better record of desegregation than those of big Northern cities.

Until just recently, the prevailing view in the courts has been that Northern segregation was de facto, resulting from voluntarily establishing housing patterns, and thus was immune from the law.

That, however, has begun to change, and a scattering of court cases in the North have made busing a national, not a regional issue. Seven Northern cities and the federal government now are involved in suits requiring extensive busing to

Asks Overhaul of Securities Industry

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — William McChesney Martin Jr. reorganized the New York Stock Exchange in 1938 as its first paid president. Now he proposes an overhaul of the entire securities industry.

Martin, who in the meantime put in 19 years as chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, released Thursday his report of a five-month study of Wall Street operations and practices.

The scrutiny was made at the request of the NYSE board of governors.

Martin's major proposals would involve creation of a single, national stock market and reorganization of the NYSE.

While the recommendations are not binding, they are expected to significantly influence the future of the securities industry. They also were considered likely to generate considerable controversy.

Under Martin's plan for a national securities market, the NYSE, the American Stock Exchange and the regional exchanges would be integrated.

He suggested that the Securities and Exchange Commission appoint a committee, including representatives of the major exchanges, to plan and design a national exchange.

Martin's proposal did not extend to the over-the-counter market which is supervised by the National Association of Securities Dealers, and which recently initiated an automatic quotation system known as NASDAQ.

Martin recommended prompt reorganization of the NYSE to give the public greater representation on its board of governors and to make the chairman of the board a paid chief executive, a position now filled by the president.

He said the reorganization would be intended to "create an organization which, through the public representation on its governing board and the authority and independence of its management, will strengthen self-regulation and answer the prevalent criticism that member firms of the New York Stock Exchange cannot be expected to discipline themselves."

Other proposals included: —Prohibition of institutional membership on stock exchanges. This would bar banks, trust companies, insurance companies and mutual funds.

—Prohibition of management of mutual funds by exchange member firms.

—Greater use of modern communication systems.

—Enactment of legislation granting antitrust exemption to the exchanges coexistent with Securities and Exchange Commission oversight.

—An effort to eliminate the stock certificate.

Martin suggested that it would be imprudent to adopt a full program of negotiated brokers' commission rates at this time "when the industry needs continued earnings to accumulate and attract capital."

Most brokers said they needed to study the report before commenting on it.

effect desegregation.

Of these, Pontiac, Mich., likely will be the first to test the issue in the Supreme Court. The city lost in the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, and officials are considering an appeal to the Supreme Court.

Desegregation plans involving busing also have been ordered in San Francisco and Pasadena, Calif. Action is pending in cases involving South Holland, Ill., Tulsa, Okla., Waterbury, Conn., and Indianapolis.

subcommittee headed by Rep. William J. Randall, D-Mo., 62. The formal statement made no reference to Pryor, but quoted Colmer as saying:

"This subject—the economic, physical and other problems of our senior citizens—is far too important to be neglected simply because we cannot provide facilities for a special group to look into it.

"Rather than to incur further delays awaiting the development of additional space, I have asked the Government Operations Committee ... to try to find time in its busy schedule to take on this additional assignment for the purpose of recommending measures that will help our growing population of the aged to find greater comfort and enjoyment in their senior years."

The study, which the committee said probably will begin next month, will cover such areas as nursing homes, housing, transportation, insurance and Medicare, and will look "beyond the emotion in this area and find answers for as many of the immediate problems of our elderly citizens as we can," the statement added.

Pryor, who recently raised $11,000 at a catfish fry to underwrite costs of his trailer operation, said in an interview he is "glad the House is recognizing that we've got to go into a very serious study of this."

week but that customer orders would determine the level of production and of employee call-backs.

Most major producers had shut down facilities last week as the weekend strike deadline approached. A new three-year contract agreed to Sunday provides at least a $1 an hour increase in average pay which was $3.45, plus improved fringe benefits.

Both Inland and Republic Steel have announced layoffs in the Chicago area totaling 15,500 workers, all attributed to reduction in demand. The bulk of the U.S. Steel layoffs will be in the Gary plant where 14,000 will be out of work.

Mayor Richard Hatcher of Gary said industry sources told him as many as 25,000 persons could be out of work in the city of 175,000 population.

As a U.S. Steel spokesman in Pittsburgh put it, there "simply are no orders and no orders means no work." The company has an estimated 30,000 workers idle in the Pittsburgh area.

Jones and Laughlin, the sixth-ranked steel producer, declined to estimate how many of its 10,000 workers in the Pittsburgh area were idle but one source put the figure at about 75 per cent. However, the company was in the process of restarting operations and recalling more workers daily.

Bethlehem Steel's plant in nearby Johnstown remained nearly completely shut down with company officials giving no estimate on reopening. Virtually all the 6,200 workers there were idle.

About 16,000 of 24,000 workers at Bethlehem in Baltimore were off the job with all blast furnaces shut down and all steelmaking furnaces shut down for at least the rest of the week.

Armco Steel Corp. said it had laid off nearly 600 workers at Ashland, Ky., and another 405 at its Houston, Tex., plant but that production was continuing at its Middletown, Ohio, plant—its largest facility with 7,000 workers.

New Rules for Cable Television

By BROOKS JACKSON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Communications Commission has proposed rules for the future of cable television, an infant industry promising a new revolution in America's living rooms.

Under the proposed rules, cable systems would have to offer subscribers a wide range of over-the-air television signals, free closed-circuit channels for use by government, educators and individual citizens, and two-way potential that could connect home screens with computers or future shop-from-home department stores.

The effect of the rules proposed Thursday would be to promote cable systems to fill unused channels with a vastly wider and more varied fare than is now available most places.

The rules are expected to go into effect March 1 unless the FCC changes its mind by the end of the year, when a final decision is scheduled.

Because the proposals are sure to inspire energetic lobbying by broadcasters who see cable systems as a threat to the commission took the unusual step of sending Congress a lengthy explanation of the proposals.

Cable television, also known as CATV for "community antenna television," brings television signals into the home via coaxial cable from a central antenna. Closed-circuit services, such as weather or news reports, also are sometimes provided. Fees generally run $5 to $7 a month.

Of the nation's 60 million sets, only 5.9 million are connected to CATV systems, mostly in rural areas where reception would otherwise be poor.

Under the FCC proposals all cable systems would have to carry the signals of all stations within 35 miles.

In the 50 largest television markets they would have to carry a minimum of three full network stations and three independent stations, plus two distant stations.

Cable systems in the second 50 markets would be required to carry three network, one independent and two distant stations.

Systems in markets smaller than the top 100 would carry three network and one independent stations.

Ultra-high-frequency stations would be given preference in choosing what distant signals are to be imported into top-100 markets. Any number of educational stations would be permitted provided local educational-television interests do not object.

ported. The Apollo 15 crew will don blindfolds for an hour in the cosmic light experiment.

They performed a similar experiment on the way to the moon and Worden did tests while orbiting the moon alone while Scott and Irwin were on the lunar surface.

They reported numerous lights, mostly pinpoint specks. Scott and Irwin also reported the flashes while sleeping in their landing craft on the surface of the moon.

Space scientists want to determine the cause of the flashes of light, which have occurred mainly in darkness, because of the potentially harmful effect they might have on astronauts on long space flights.

During the hour-long news conference from deep space, the astronauts will give newsmen personal observations about their 12-day flight, which ends Saturday with splashdown at 4:46 p.m. EDT north of Hawaii.

Mission Control will relay questions to the Apollo 15 crew. The session will be televised to the Manned Spacecraft Center, but will not be carried by the television networks.

The conference starts at 3:54 p.m. EDT.

Friday, August 6, 1971 Showers Still Forecast for Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Scattered showers and thunderstorms are still forecast for Arkansas through Saturday, but the National Weather Service said today there should be a reduction in the probability of shower activity beginning tonight.

Mainly the decrease can be attributed to a low-pressure area aloft backing up and moving slowly westward, while the front in southern Arkansas drifts further southward and continues to weaken.

The outlook through Tuesday is a trend to more summer-like weather with highs into the 90s along with afternoon thunderstorms.

Heaviest rainfall Thursday was again recorded in central Arkansas with Little Rock's 24-hour total at midnight at 1.83 inches. A large part of that total fell between 1 p.m. and 2 p.m., and flood conditions existed for a time on some city streets. Other areas of the state received somewhat less rainfall with amounts generally under half an inch.

Back on Jan. 9 of this year, Little Rock's precipitation total for the year was .02 of an inch above normal. Since that date, the totals have been below normal due mainly to a dry winter. But today, after 6.15 inches of rain in the past four days, the total as climbed to .44 of an inch above normal for the year.

Temperatures continued on the cool side for this time of year with 80-degree readings statewide. August has yet to produce a high of 90 or higher. The last high in excess of the 80s was a high of 90 at Judsonia on July 30.

The top reading in the state Thursday afternoon was 85 at Pine Bluff. The remainder of the stations recorded highs in the low 80s.

Overnight lows around the state include Fayetteville 64, Harrison 65, Jonesboro 69, Pine Bluff 71, Texarkana 71, El Dorado 71, Memphis 72, Little Rock 71 and Fort Smith 69.

Rainfall reports for the 24-hour period ended at 7 a.m. today included .07 of an inch at Fayetteville, .03 at Harrison, .02 at Jonesboro, .25 at Pine Bluff, .03 at Texarkana, .42 at El Dorado, .04 at Memphis, 1.84 at Little Rock and .76 at Fort Smith.

ter to Stennis that most members of Congress agree to the necessity for the two-year draft extension, with its provision for a $2.4-billion military pay raise designed to attract volunteers.

"Therefore, I am hopeful that the Senate can quickly adopt the report so that I may sign it before the Congress takes its month long summer recess," he said.

That recess begins today and ends Sept. 8.

Gravel already is at work recruiting a filibuster force in an effort to block the draft extension.

Mansfield said he doubts there are at the moment enough votes to muster the required two-thirds majority to stop a filibuster.

Miss Coleman Honored

Miss Kathryn Coleman, bride-elect of Carroll Beck, has been honored several times in the last two weeks with entertainments. On July 26 a Rice Bag party was given by Mrs. J. O. Luck, Mrs. William Jones, and Mrs. Carlton King. Corsages were presented to the honoree, her mother, Mrs. N. B. Coleman, and her fiancé's mother, Mrs. W. C. Beck. Dinner was served to 18 at the Country Kitchen, and the hostesses gave Miss Coleman a Memory Candle.

On July 31 Miss Susan McCain, Miss Carol Anthony, and Miss Nellie Churchwell had a miscellaneous shower at the Joan House home in Oakhaven. Daisies were given to Miss Coleman and her mother, and the hostesses had a gift of cookware for the bride-elect. Mrs. House, Mrs. Horace Anthony, and Mrs. S. L. Churchwell assisted in serving pie with coffee or tea to 18.

A recipe and ingredient shower was given on the evening of July 31 by Mrs. Roy Fry, Mrs. Troy Burson, Mrs. Harold Bobo, and Mrs. Rue Mullins. Kitchen corsages were presented to Miss Coleman, Mrs. Coleman, and Mrs. Beck. The 20 guests signed their names on an apron for Miss Coleman presented with favorite recipes and ingredients for making them. From a table covered with a red and white checked cloth, frosted raspberry punch was served with cookies.

The wedding colors, blue and white, were carried out in decorations at the home of Mrs. C. L. Faught on August 3, when a miscellaneous shower was given by Mrs. Faught, Miss Murlene Faught, and Mrs. Vernie Goynes. Blue frosted punch and cake squares were served to 19, and the honoree received many lovely and useful gifts.

Bridal Shower

Miss Claudia Maas of Pine Bluff, bride-elect of Danny Frith, was the honoree at a recent bridal shower at the Garrett Memorial Baptist Church. Miss Maas wore an orchid knit dress and pinned spring flowers at her shoulder.

Corsages were presented to the mothers of the engaged couple, Mrs. Stanley Maas of Pine Bluff and Mrs. David Frith of Hope, and to the groom-elect's grandmother, Mrs. Dora Wortham, and his aunt, Miss Gwendolyn Frith.

Guests registered at a table overlaid with white linen and marked with a memory candle and a rice bag tree. Miss Allison Reemes of Pine Bluff presided at the guest book.

The serving table was covered with white satin overlaid with green lace and centered with a mixed bouquet of flowers. Tasty refreshments were served to the friends and relatives who called, and the honoree received many beautiful and useful gifts.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Harry Attebury, Warren; Mrs. Jimmy Miller, Memphis; Miss Beth Roberts, Pine Bluff; Mrs. Dave Maroon, Nashville; and Mrs. Harry Stephens, Arkadelphia.

Plans For Maas-Frith Wedding
Plans for the marriage of Claudia Jane Maas and Daniel David Frith have been completed. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Louis Maas, Jr. of 105 Friendswood Drive, Pine Bluff, and Mrs. John David Frith of Hope and the late Mr. Frith.

The couple will exchange vows at 4:00 p.m. Saturday in the Wheeler Chapel at the First United Methodist Church. Dr. John W. Lindsey will officiate for the double ring ceremony.

Eddie Dunbar of Altheimer, organist, Phillip Ballard, Soloist, and David Morris, Pianist, both of Hope, will provide nuptial music for the ceremony. Teddy Holmes and Paul Holmes, both of Pine Bluff, will serve as candlelighters.

Miss Beth Roberts of Pine Bluff will serve as maid of honor. Bridesmaids will be Allison Reemes and Meredith Smith, both of Pine Bluff.

Harry Stephens of Hope will be the best man. Groomsmen will be Stanley L. Mass, III of Monroe, Louisiana, brother of the bride elect, and John Matlock, Malvern.

Serving at the reception will be Mrs. Stanley L. Mass, III of Monroe, Mrs. Harry Stephens, sister of the bridegroom; Mrs. Roger Shollmier of Jonesboro; and Mary Cal Hollis of Pine Bluff. Kathy McCool of Pine Bluff will keep the bride's book.

No invitations will be sent in the city. Friends and relatives of the couple are invited to attend.

Shortest book in the Bible is the Second Epistle of John, with 13 verses.

Coming, Going

Mrs. Mattie Tomlin has returned from Houston after attending the funeral of her grandson, Jimmy Tomlin.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Tar, Dallas, will arrive Friday to visit Mr. and Mrs. Birkett Wylie and family.

Mr. and Mrs. H.O. Kyler, Jr. and family, Cincinnati, O., are coming this weekend to help Mrs. H.O. Kyler move to the Presbyterian Village in Little Rock.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. B.L. Rettig last week were Miss Flora Hart of Texarkana and Mr. and Mrs. Guy Cheek and 3 daughters of Richardson, Tex.

Miss Ruby McKee returned to her home in Houston on Wednesday after visiting Mrs. Jewel Moore, Sr., other relatives and friends.

Mrs. McRae Cox and Mrs. Tom Middlebrooks left Monday for Branson, Mo., where they will visit Mr. and Mrs. John E. Morris.

Dr. Luther Abram and family, Arcadia, Calif., and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Abram, Duncan, Okla., have been recent guests of Miss Hazel Abram and other relatives.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Each year, changes occur in returning television series.

It's been well publicized that Milburn Stone, "Doc" in CBS' "Gunsmoke" the last 16 seasons, is convalescing from open-heart surgery and will be temporarily replaced by Pat Hingle.

But there are other changes in the fall lineup, too.

For instance: Blonde Barbara Anderson, who has played lady cop Eve Whitfield, has left NBC's "Ironside" series and will be replaced by brunette Elizabeth Baur.

CBS' "Mission: Impossible" survives nicely with a new girl in its adventurous team each season. This year it will be Lynda Day George, succeeding Lesley Warren.

Titles, series makers believe, are important to a show's success. Thus Dick Van Dyke's forthcoming series will be called "The New Dick Van Dyke Show"—hopefully to distinguish it from the old "Dick Van Dyke Show" which is around in reruns.

"The New CBS Friday Night Movies"—a series of 90-minute made-for-TV dramas—is a title carefully designed to separate it from the network's Thursday and Sunday night movies, which are old feature films already shown in theaters. ABC calls its Saturday night series of 90-minute dramas "Movie of the Weekend," because it had such success with its Tuesday night "Movie of the Week," and hopes the audience will embrace the new addition.

Rod Taylor's pilot film was called "Powderkeg." When CBS decided to turn the concept into a series, it was "The Big Wheels." Now it has been changed to "Bearcats." It is an action show set in the southwest about 50 years ago.

NBC, moving "First Tuesday" this season, originally decided to call it "Fourth Friday," but recently changed the title to "Chronology," which looks like a typographical error.

"The Glen Campbell Good-time Hour" after three CBS seasons will become "The Glen Campbell Show," which is what people called it anyway.

All three networks will launch their fall schedules the week of Sept. 12.

Although they have about the same number of new series—a total of 23, CBS has the most to win or lose in the ratings race. In a radical realignment of its schedule, only four out of 17 returning programs will come back in their familiar time periods—and viewers are creatures of habit.

A CAVE BUFF
STANTON, Mo. (AP) — Pearl Bailey may be the top cave buff in show business, says Lester B. Dill of the Meramec Caverns on U.S. 66 here. Dill dedicated a room to Miss Bailey who said: "You really have a racket. You do great business all the time and never have to worry about changing the scenery."

Award 12 Top Air Force Medals for Service

WRIGHT-PATTERSON AFB, OHIO—Maj. James N. Holt poses with his family after being presented the first oak leaf cluster to the Distinguished Flying Cross at Wright-Patterson AFB, Ohio. Earlier he received eleven other top Air Force medals for his service as a AC-119K navigator with the 18th Special Operations Squadron at Da Nang AB, Vietnam. He presently is assigned to the 4950th Test Wing at the Aeronautical Systems Division but temporarily detailed to the C-54 System Program Office as an avionics subsystems manager. His family from left to right are Thad, Curt, Mrs. Holt and Todd.

Maj. James N. Holt, navigator with the 4950th Test Wing, Aeronautical Systems Division (ASD), was awarded twelve top Air Force medals for service with the 18th Special Operations Squadron in Vietnam.

The first Distinguished Flying cross and ten oak leaf clusters to the Air Medal were presented to Major Holt by Col. Robert A. Rishworth, Commander of the 4950th Test Wing. The first oak leaf cluster to the Distinguished Flying Cross was presented by Lt. Gen. James T. Stewart, Commander of ASD.

The Distinguished Flying Cross was in recognition of extraordinary achievement by Major Holt on 11 January 1970. On that date, he was the navigator aboard an AC-119K which flew an armed reconnaissance mission against infiltration routes, destroying a truck convey despite darkness and extremely accurate hostile fire.

The first cluster to the DFC was earned by Major Holt on March 10, 1970, and was for a similar mission in which another truck convey was destroyed. The ten clusters to the Air Medal were awarded for outstanding airmanship while in Vietnam from October 1970 to November 1970. He was stationed at Da Nang Air Base.

Major Holt is presently detailed to ASD's C-54 System Program Office as an avionics subsystems manager. He has been here since November 1970.

A native of Harrison, Arkansas, he earned a bachelor of science degree in electrical engineering from the University of Arkansas before entering the Air Force in May 1958. His duty stations included: C-54 navigator at James Connally AFB, Texas and Kessler AFB, Miss.; the Air Force Institute of Technology at Wright-Patterson where he earned a Master's degree in astronautical engineering; and the Tactical Air Command at Lockbourne AFB, Ohio, as AC-119K navigator.

He also spent 4 years at Aeronautical Systems Division from 1964 to 1968. During this time, he managed development and production of the AGM-12E, the XAGM-79A, the Aim-4D which he helped install on F-4 aircraft.

In addition to medals recently received, Major Holt holds the original Air Medal, the Meritorious Service Medal and grees north latitude by 158 degrees west longitude in the north-central Pacific 330 miles north of Hawaii.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

JUNK TO SOME, ANTIQUES TO OTHERS

Dear Helen: My mother does not cry easily but today she cried as she told me about my 40-year-old brother's latest birthday "gift" to her. She wonders if he's trying to tell her how much he hates her.

It cost him over $2.00 to send utter junk—a huge rusty fish hook, an old sunhat with the ribbon broken, an old yellow box with an ancient knife and fork in it, a carnival-type necklace, all black with age.

If this happened only once, we could overlook it, but all his "presents" are the same—worthless rubbish. He has money—more than the rest of the family. Why?

When I finally told him how he hurt my mother, he said I was obtuse. He refuses to change.

He's odd in other ways too. When he came home last year and I gave a party for him, he got peeved because I didn't have balloons all over; and insisted we play musical chairs and stupid childish games like that.

For a successful businessman, he a social failure. Should the family write him off? —DISTUSTED SISTER

Dear Sis: What's "junk" to you may be valued "antiques" to you brother. What's "childish" to you may be high camp to him.

There's no accounting for "different" people's tastes, but you can be sure his gifts aren't meant as insults. So laugh—and give as bad as you get. He's probably the type who will appreciate it! —H.

Dear Helen: Dear friends went on vacation and asked us to keep an eye on their 16-year-old daughter, living at home. The girl called us one morning and asked my husband to take her for her driver's test. She already had her beginner's permit with the necessary parental signatures. She also said her folks approved and even gave her use of their two cars if she passed.

Well, she passed, but barely. Within 24 hours, the daughter managed to wreck her father's car and partially demolish her mother's—and the parents were and are furious—at us!

They said this would never have happened if my husband hadn't taken the girl for her driver's test. We had no reason to suspect her, and thought we were doing her a favor.

Are we responsible? —M.G.

Dear M.: You aren't responsible—but this won't rebuild a friendship—unless these people face facts and blame the guilty ones—their daughter and themselves.

Any licensed driver could have taken the girl down for her final test—the parents' signatures on her driver's permit allow this. And if a mother and father leave a 16-year-old girl alone at home, they'd better be sure she's mature enough to handle her freedom.

I'd say they're somewhat deficient themselves—and perhaps not as "dear friends" as you think. —H.

Dear Helen:

Bully for the neighbors who "got involved" when they thought the house next door was being burglarized. Even though it embarrassed the late-leaving boy friend, they should be appreciated. One thing "Neighborhood Out" forgets is that if her house IS burglarized she'll be howling because the neighbors did nothing. Kötty Genovese of New York would have been grateful for even one neighbor of the type that N.O. complains about. —EVERETT A.

Limited Duty Slated for A. Manning

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Archie Manning had the starting role many times during his college days but he'll be an understudy when he makes his pro football debut.

Manning, the Saints No. 1 draft selection after compiling a sparkling record at the University of Mississippi, is slated for limited duty behind quarterback Edd Hargett when New Orleans battles the Buffalo Bills in one of tonight's two pro football exhibition contests.

The rookie signal caller rejected an invitation to play in the College All Star Game and has been training with the Saints for only one week.

American Conference rookie of the year Dennis Shaw will call the signals for the Bills, whose running attack will be bolstered by O.J. Simpson.

The other game pits the offense-minded Los Angeles Rams against the Dallas Cowboys. Tommy Prothro, former head coach at UCLA makes his home pro coaching debut and has been stressing offense in practice.

Roman Gabriel will start at quarterback for the Rams while Craig Morton and Roger Staubach will alternate at the helm for the Cowboys.

Dallas Coach Tom Landry commented that his team was in fine trim, with the exception of his injury-riddled receiver corps. Tight end Mike Ditka and rookie John Nelson are the only receivers who haven't missed practice due to injuries.

New additions in the Dallas offensive lineup include flanker Lance Alworth and Calvin Hill. Hill replaces running back Duane Thomas, who has been sent back to the Cowboys after his trade to the New England Patriots was canceled.

Former Cowboy receiver Lance Rentzel will start for the Rams.

Washington Redskins quarterback Sonny Jurgensen jammed his right thumb on a helmet during a scrimmage Thursday and Coach George Allen wasted little time in dispatching the veteran signal caller to a hospital.

An x-ray proved negative and the injury was described as a "slight bruise."

One of the better known gridgers to receive the gate as pro teams continued to trim their roster was 1967 Heisman Trophy winner Gary Beban, who announced his retirement from pro football after the Denver Broncos placed him on waivers.

The Atlanta Falcons pared down their list, dropping 12 players including last year's regular place kicker Kenny Vinyard and veteran tight end Ron Jones.

The Philadelphia Eagles dropped three players Thursday—linebacker Roger Smith, tight end Dick Hill and line-backer Bob Parker.

While some of the teams whittled their numbers toward the 60-player limit, the Baltimore Colts did just the opposite and added two men to boost their roster to 60. Center Ken Mendenhall was picked up on waivers from the Houston Oilers and defensive end Tom Lloyd was acquired from the New Orleans Saints.

Miami hosts Cincinnati, Chicago meets Green Bay, Detroit faces the New York Jets, Kansas City is at Baltimore and Washington is at San Diego in Saturday's games. The Browns battle the 49ers in San Francisco and New England is on the road against the Vikings in day games Sunday.

Monday night exhibition action pairs the New York Giants against the Oilers and Philadelphia at Oakland.

Denver, St. Louis, Atlanta and Pittsburgh were not scheduled.

U.S. Bags 20 Track Gold Medals

By HUBERT MIZELI
Associated Press Sports Writer
C.A.I. Colombia (AP) — Swimming flashes Frank Hile and Susie Atwood begin splashing toward a possible 12 gold medals today after USA track aces rode away from the Pan American Games on a golden tide.

Americans bagged 20 of 24 men's track golds and an 11th-hour grandstand rumble appeared to spur a thaw in heretofore frigid U.S.-Cuba relations.

Several Cuban athletes erupted Thursday night when Maoist leaflets saying "Cuba Si, Russia No" were circulated at half-filled Pascual Guerrero Stadium.

A photographer from the Bogota sports daily, El Espectador, suffered cuts and bruises in the ruckus. A spokesman for the paper said Cuban sprinter Pablo Montes hit the newsmen and that two cameras were smashed.

Fans, seeing the red-and-blue uniforms of Cuba amid the scuffle, began hissing athletes from Castro's island as they accepted medals for feats of strength, spring and speed.

In an unprecedented gesture, record-breaking Cuban javelin thrower Tomas Nunez ascended the 1-2-3 platform to accept her gold medal and warmly clutched the hands of runner-up Americans Sherry Calvert of Torrance, Calif., and Roberta Brown of Escondido, Calif.

The crowd cheered as the three powerful ladies held hands during the playing of Cuba's national anthem in honor of Miss Nunez' throw of 177-3.

While the USA track and field team packed its 20 men's gold medals and five captured by Uncle Sam's girls, the swimmers began today what is expected to be another harvest of first-place awards for the USA.

"Our coaches keep telling us we're the best," said the 6-foot-5 Heckle, a 20-year-old Southern California senior from Cerritos, Calif. "We've got to go out and prove it."

Heckle will shoot for gold medals in four individual events—the 100 and 200-meter freestyles, 100-meter butterfly and 200-meter individual medley—plus three more in relays.

Miss Atwood, 18-year-old world backstroke record holder from Long Beach, Calif., will go for five golds in two more backstroke events, the 200 and 400 individual medleys and one relay test.

Now that track and field has ended a six-day role as Pan Am headline, the swimmers will take over for the stretch run in the "Western Hemisphere Olympics."

USA trackmen might have swept every gold medal except for a world record performance by Cuban triple jump artist Pablo Perez and the blazing feet of Jamaica's Don Quarrie.

Quarrie, a Southern Cal student, won three golds in the 100 and 200-meter sprints and as anchor on Jamaica's championship 400-meter team. He matched Tommie Smith's world mark of 19.8 in the 200.

Perez hopped, stepped and jumped an astonishing 57 feet, 1 inch to beat—by a scant quarter inch—the world triple jump mark of Russia's Viktor Saneyev set in the 1968 Olympics at Mexico City.

USA speedsters grabbed the other three relays on the closing program including the 400-yard effort that was anchored by Iris Davis, the 100-meter sprint queen from Pompano Beach, Fla.

Both the American girls and boys grabbed 1,600-meter relays.

Rod Milburn equalled the 13.4 Pan Am record in the 110-meter hurdles and steeplechaser Mike Manley of Eugene, Ore., bagged a gold with an 8:42.2 performance in the 3,000-meter hurdles grind.

Perhaps the bleakest moment for the host Colombians came in the 26-mile marathon when their hero—Boston marathon king Alvaro Mejia—finished a dismal fourth to USA double gold medal winner Frank Shorter of Boulder, Colo.

"I would have been 30 seconds faster," Shorter said of his 2:22:44 clocking. "But I've been ill and I had to stop to go to the bathroom."

Shorter also took the 10,000 meters earlier in the track program.

Royals 7-4 Over Twins

By BERT ROSENTHAL
Associated Press Sports Writer
Bob Lemon, Kansas City's soft-spoken manager, is understandably prejudiced when he talks about Amos Otis, the Royals' fleet-footed, hard-hitting center fielder. He believes Otis is the best center fielder in the American League.

Otis, now in only his second full season in the majors, justified his manager's praise of him Thursday night, slamming a three-run double during a four-run Kansas City rally in the seventh inning that carried the Royals to a 7-4 victory over the beleaguered Minnesota Twins.

In other American League games, New York blanked Baltimore 5-0; Boston edged Detroit 5-4; Cleveland trounced Washington 7-1; Oakland nipped Milwaukee 2-1, and Chicago shaded California 1-0.

In the National League, St. Louis defeated San Francisco 3-2; Los Angeles stopped Houston 3-0; Pittsburgh whipped Montreal 7-2; Atlanta outlasted New York 2-1 in 17 innings, and Chicago downed San Diego 3-0.

Bobby Knoop ripped a leadoff pinch triple, knocking out Minnesota starter, Tom Hall, to start the Royals' winning rally in the seventh. Stan Williams, 4-5, relieved Hall and hit Fred Patek with a pitch. Patek swiped second for his 36th steal, tops in the American League, and Cookie Rojas walked, filling the bases, before Otis rifled a two-strike pitch to right center, driving in all three runners and giving Kansas City a 6-4 lead. Otis then scored on Chuck Harrison's single.

Otis' double was his 10th game winning hit of the season, extending his club record, and giving him 61 RBI—tops on the Royals.

He also is batting .315, with 20 doubles, four triples, 15 homers and 35 stolen bases. This compares with his .284 average, 36 doubles, nine triples, 11 homers, 58 runs batted in and 33 steals in 159 games in 1970.

PITCHING—Juan Pizarro, Cubs, allowed San Diego only one hit—Ollie Brown's fifth-inning single—and struck out nine, hurling Chicago to a 3-0 victory over the Padres.

HITTING—Amos Otis, Royals, smashed a three-run double, highlighting a four-run seventh-inning uprising as Kansas City rallied for a 7-4 triumph over Minnesota.

The Royals acquired Otis on Dec. 3, 1969, from the Mets along with pitcher Bob Johnson in exchange for third baseman Joe Foy. He had failed in two previous trials with the Mets, hitting only .220 in 19 games in 1967 and .151 in 48 games in 1969.

After his decisive double against the Twins, the 24-year-old center fielder said he had not been making good contact with the ball recently. In an effort to hit the ball more solidly, Otis said, "I've been trying not to let the pitchers get on top of me. This time, I liked what I saw and I dived into it."

Not only has Otis been a standout hitter for the Royals, but he has been a sensational fielder. He played 112 major league games in the outfield before committing his first error on June 21, 1970. He committed three more errors, before finishing the season with a string of 72 errorless games.

He also was faultless in the field in his first 92 games this year, stretching his streak to a record 165 games, before making his first error. It is his only error in 101 games.

New York's Mel Stottlemyre hurled a brilliant three-hitter against Baltimore and capped a five-run Yankee outburst in the seventh inning with a two-run single.

Danny Cater also had a two-run single and Ron Swoboda singled in the other run as the Yanks saddled Mike Cuellar, 13-5, with his fourth consecutive loss.

The only hits off Stottlemyre were singles—by Merv Rettenmund in the first and by Ellie Hendricks in the fourth and ninth. Between Hendricks' two hits, Stottlemyre retired 17 consecutive hitters.

The loss reduced Baltimore's East Division lead over Boston to 4½ games.

The Red Sox also had a five-run inning, the eighth, in beating Detroit. Doug Griffin's lead-off homer started the Boston eighth. Later, George Scott singled in two runs and Bob Montgomery doubled home the final two runs.

Willie Horton drove in all the Detroit runs with a single in the third, a homer in the eighth and a two-run single in the ninth.

Cleveland, which had lost six straight games after beating Oakland ace Vida Blue last Friday in Manager Johnny Lipon's debut, ended its losing streak as Vince Colbert got his first major league victory as a starter against Washington.

Colbert, making his second start, gave up six hits in eight innings, before Rick Austin and Ed Farmer finished in the ninth.

The Indians broke a 1-1 tie with five runs in the fifth inning. Consecutive doubles by Ted Uhlaender, Vada Pinson and Chris Chambliss accounted for the first two runs. After a walk, Frank Baker doubled in another run. The last two scored on an error and a grounder.

Wilbur Wood, the relief pitcher turned starter this season, increased his record to 13-8, outdueling California's Clyde Wright as the White Sox ripped the Angels. Wood spaced seven hits in pitching the White Sox into third place in the AL West—their highest position since the first week of the season.

Wright surrendered only six hits, but was nipped for a run in the seventh inning when Bill Melton singled, Rick Reichardt hit into a force play and stole second, then scored on Tom Egan's single.

Reggie Jackson's two-run homer in the first inning, his 19th homer of the season, was all the batting support needed by Oakland's Jim Hunter to beat Milwaukee. Hunter, 14-10, scattered nine hits, including Dave May's 10th homer.

Cardinals Edge S.F.; 3-2 Score

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
It has been six weeks between victories for Juan Marichal but if San Francisco's high-kicking right-hander is getting impatient, he shouldn't be. After all, Bill Singer waited eight weeks to win a game.

Marichal, winless since June 23, dropped a 3-2 decision to St. Louis tonight as San Francisco lost its fourth straight game. And Los Angeles took advantage of the setback to chop a game off the Giants West Division lead by blanking Houston 3-0 for Singer's first victory since June 12.

Elsewhere in the National League Thursday, Pittsburgh ripped Montreal 7-2, Chicago blanked San Diego 3-0 and Atlanta nipped New York 2-1 in 17 innings.

In the American League, Boston edged Detroit 5-4. New York shut out Baltimore 5-0. Cleveland downed Washington 7-1. Kansas City whipped Minnesota 7-4. Oakland nipped Milwaukee 2-1 and Chicago edged California 1-0.

Matty Alou drove in two Cardinal runs and rookie Jose Cruz crashed a home run as Reggie Cleveland bested Marichal, now 10-8. Since June 23, Marichal has made eight starts, losing four and being involved in four no-decisions.

The Giants got him a quick run in the first inning when Tito Fuentes tripled and scored on Ken Henderson's sacrifice fly. Cruz' fourth homer tied it in the bottom half of the inning and then the Cards took the lead in the fourth with a throwing error by Marichal setting up the run.

Cruz walked, moved up on a wild pitch and then reached third when Marichal threw an attempted pickoff throw away. Alou singled him home. St. Louis final run came in the sixth when Lou Brock singled, stole his 37th base and scored on an infield out and Alou's sacrifice fly.

Rookie Dave Kingman homered for the Giants in the eighth. Singer, 6-13, fired a six-hitter and struck out 10 Astros as the Dodgers trimmed San Francisco's division lead to six games. It ended a four-game losing streak for Singer.

The Dodgers scored twice in the fourth inning with Jim LeFebvre's single and Steve Garvey's sacrifice fly driving the runs home. LA added a final run on pinch hitter Wes Parker's single.

Pittsburgh maintained its eight-game lead in the East Division, using a barrage of three homers by Willie Stargell, Jose Pagan and Al Oliver to wallop Montreal.

Stargell's 39th homer got the tip that corrected Hill's year-long putting flaws over the 7-, 180-yard course while Heard continued to handle the greens well.

"Gay said I was hitting it too quickly, that I was putting too much with my hands," said Hill, 32. The Jackson, Mich., pro used the tip to drill in six birdie putts, more than hitting three bogies.

"Even my brother Dave told me I was putting too quickly, but he didn't know why. Gay said I should take a longer stroke. The ball comes off the blade softer," said Hill.

"I stroked the ball closer to the hole today. I didn't have to suffer through any of those three-footers said Hill, whose best 1971 finish was 10th place tie at the Tallahassee Open.

Heard, 24-year-old from Visalia, Calif., played steadier. He had no bogies and birdied three holes with short putts.

He saved par with putts of 20 and 15 feet on the 12th and 13th holes.

It was Heard's opening classic and first look at the fabled Firestone South Course, he said. "You can't attack a course like this one. If you get it going badly, it will eat you up."

Brewer and Marti are two more nonwinners on the 1971 tour although Marti did win the Ontario, Calif., satellite event during the winter.

Firestone, playing long because of recent rains, was tough on some of game's big names.

Arnold Palmer, the Latrobe, Pa., golfing millionaire who had led eight consecutive rounds in the last two weeks, was among six players tied at 70.

Jack Nicklaus, current PGA champion who paired with Palmer last week to win the National Team Championship, ran into putting woes and settled in a log jam of 16 players at 73.

Also at 73 was defending champion Frank Beard, who won last year with a four-under-par 276.

Charles Coody, the 1971 Master's king, was nestled with 10 others at 74.

Palmer, who like Nicklaus can pass idle Lee Trevino for the No. 1 money winning spot with a victory this week, flew home after his round to concentrate on his driving.

The field was to be trimmed to below 70 after the second round today.

each game of the first set.

Miss Durr bested Jill Cooper 6-3, 6-7, 6-4 in a match that required a tie-breaker game to decide the second set.

Mary Ann Curtis of St. Louis, Mo., defeated England's Wendy Overton 7-5, 6-7, 6-4 in another first round match.

East Is Concentrating on Defense

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The high school all-star football game Saturday night may give Coach Don Riggs nightmares. To Riggs, head coach of the East team, defense ranks first, second and third.

In 1970, Riggs' Jonesboro team blanked seven of its opponents. According to rumor, a two-hour practice session included 15 minutes on offense and the rest on defense.

Riggs thinks a 14-7 game is an offensive show.

Saturday night, Riggs' team must stop West quarterback Jimmy Doolittle of Little Rock Catholic, a 5-7, 150 pounder who drives defensive players batty with his scrambling antics.

Doolittle will be backed by Larry Phillips of Fort Smith Northside and Roger Gregory of Rogers.

The West must combat Jonesboro's Scott Bull, Augusta's Mark Miller and Forrest City's Dudley Parker.

Neither team figures to succeed completely.

"There's no way of coming up with a defense to stop the kind of quarterbacks that we have here this week," said Joe Reese of Hot Springs, assistant coach of the West.

"If Bull ever gets to our outside I doubt that our defensive backs will ever be able to get him," Reese said of the 6-4, 195-pounder. "He's so strong and he has a lot of quickness to go with it."

"Defending Bull is one thing, but trying to stop Miller is something else," Reese said. "He runs the 40 in 4.6 and is so smooth. Where Bull can just run over you with his strength, Miller can out finesse you. We have got problems either way."

Riggs had similar praise for Doolittle. "The only way to beat Doolittle is to keep the pressure on him all the time," Riggs said. "He turns that corner as well as anyone I've seen. If we can't contain him we'll be in bad trouble. He's so fakey. He does not particularly throw the long ball real well, but he's deadly on that short pass."

Doolittle will be throwing to Rocket teammate Matt Morrison and Hot Springs' Jerry Brawner.

The East's receivers include speedy Ken Martin of Pine Bluff and Steve Burks, quarterback at Cabot.

We're going to throw the football," Riggs said. "We've got the best quarterbacks in the state and great receivers. We'd be fools not to depend on the pass to win for us."

"It will be hard to keep this from becoming a high scoring game," said Bill Reed, Riggs' assistant at Jonesboro.

The game is scheduled at 8 p.m. at War Memorial Stadium.

Says ABA Must Use Draft System

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. (AP) — American Basketball Association Commissioner Jack Dolph says ABA teams must use an "orderly process" in signing players, namely the draft system.

"We are growing up and things can't be done the way they have been in the past," Dolph told a news conference as ABA general managers opened their annual meeting here Thursday.

Dolph also said the passage of legislation permitting merger of the ABA and the National Basketball Association will depend on "the antitrust climate in Congress" at the time the legislation comes up.

"It's our expectation the Senate will hold Judiciary Committee hearings early this fall," he said. "We've informed the legislature that we feel the matter is of vital urgency."

Dolph said he hopes the 1972-73 season "will include some regular-season games between the leagues," but that a fully integrated schedule could not be anticipated before 1973-74 at the earliest.

Thurlof McCrady, ABA executive director, indicated that the 1971-72 schedule has been completed and will be made public within a few days.

Wayne Duke Is New Czar of Big Ten

CHICAGO (AP) — Wayne Duke, commissioner of the Big Eight Athletic Conference for the past eight years, will become czar of the Big Ten conference.

Duke, 42, who has always admired the Big Ten from afar, signed a five-year contract Thursday to become commissioner of the Big Ten beginning Sept. 1.

Duke succeeds the late Bill Reed who died May 20 and becomes the fourth commissioner of the Big Ten. Maj. John L. Griffith headed the conference from 1922-1944 and Tug Wilson was in command from 1945-1961 before Reed came on the scene.

A 1950 graduate of the University of Iowa, Duke has worked as sports information director at Northern Iowa and Colorado and was an NCAA assistant executive before becoming commissioner of the Big Eight.

At a news conference Thursday, Duke revealed he was contacted by the Big Ten and did not personally seek the job to succeed his late friend.

Duke was introduced by Chancellor J. Roscoe Miller of Northwestern. Miller said Duke was the unanimous choice of the Council of Ten, made up of presidents of Big Ten universities.

"It was a difficult decision to make," said Duke, "because I have pride in the Big Eight. The Big Ten always has been prestigious and a pacesetter and is setting regulations of financial aid, academic standards and other regulative controls—many of which have been adopted, or will be in the near future, throughout the country."

Rod Laver Breaking Out of Slump

By DAVE O'HARA Associated Press Sports Writer BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — Rod Laver, the King of tennis who had made a hobby of collecting titles, and dollars, during a fabulous career, is determined to break out of a rare slump in the $50,000 U.S. Pro Championships this week at Longwood.

"I'm feeling better, much better," the 33-year-old Rocket from Australia said confidently Thursday night after he did a turnaround and staged an amazing comeback for a 4-6, 6-2, 6-2 victory over stubborn Ismael El Shafai of the United Arab Republic.

Although he is a five-time U.S. pro champ and has earned more than $200,000 already this year, Laver is seeded only fourth on his annual Longwood invasion. The reason: a slump which has left him winless on the circuit since mid-May.

"Every week's another week," Laver said matter of factly. "I'm getting better. As long as I can stay in there, I feel I have a good chance."

Laver gave a near sellout crowd of 4,500 fans a lesson in both perseverance and the finer points of the game as he advanced past El Shafai and moved into the quarter-final match today against seventh-seeded Marty Riessen of Evanston, Ill.

El Shafai, like Laver a southpaw, won two of three previous meetings with The Rocket—and appeared en route to another upset as he took the first set with a service break in the 10th game.

However, Laver broke El Shafai at love in the opening game of the second set, asserting his old-time authority.

The transplanted Aussie, now a resident of Dorona-Delmar, Calif., broke his rival in the third game of the deciding set, held off three break points on his own service in the sixth, and finished the match by winning 13 of the last 15 points.

Also advancing to the quarter-finals were third-seeded Cliff Drysdale of South Africa, fifth-seeded Tom Okker of the Netherlands and sixth-seeded Ken Rosewall, the 1963 and '65 champion from Australia.

McClinton Now Working to Aid Blacks

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The roar of the crowd no longer deafens the ears of Curtis McClinton, not so long ago a professional football star with the Kansas City Chiefs.

Today, the vocal madness that accompanies the gridiron sport is only a memory for McClinton, who put away his football shoes only slightly less than a year ago.

McClinton, his face bearded, doesn't miss football. He doesn't have the time. He's busy with so many other roles he often feels like a man caught in a revolving door.

McClinton devotes the energy he once spent roaming up and down the football field mainly to his chores as president of the Greater Kansas City Black Economic Union, a nonprofit economic development organization. He has a big chair in a plush office but is rarely in it.

"The purpose of the Black Economic Union is to further involvement of minority persons in the economic mainstream of America," says McClinton, 32.

"Our objective is to provide minority Kansas City citizens with new and improved businesses worth a total asset value of one-half billion dollars that create 50,000 new jobs within five years."

"We have classes, and we teach people how to succeed in business."

McClinton, founder, organizer and senior vice president of a Kansas City bank that has grown from three-quarters of a million dollars to $12 million, is involved in many other things.

He's a member of the board of directors of the University of Kansas where he starred in football during his college days, of the executive board of the Boy Scouts of America, of the White House Advisor Task Force on Youth, of the board of directors of the American Bankers Association and the Greater Kansas City Boys Club and on and on.

Ruiz Optioned to Minor League

ANAHEIM (AP) — Chico Ruiz, was optioned to Salt Lake City, of the Pacific Coast League Thursday by the California Angels.

Ruiz, a seven-year veteran, was in his second season with California after spending 5½ years with the Cincinnati Reds. He appeared in 30 games and was batting .263.

Ruiz was optioned to the minors to make room for shortstop Jim Fregosi, who was returned to the roster after missing a month following foot surgery.

DR. LAWRENCE E. LAMB

Temperature Tells Time of Ovulation

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—I had a blood sugar of 125. The doctor told me that's normal. I am 65 years old. The girl at the desk told me 110 was normal. How far over 125 at the age of 65 should you have to watch for sugar? My cholesterol at one time was 320, the last count 300, taking no medicine. This same doctor said not to worry about a 300 cholesterol. I thought 300 high. Can you tell me what a normal one would be? I thought I read somewhere that 105 was normal, if so I think I have something to worry about.

Dear Reader—First regarding blood sugar, there are different methods of doing the test and this can account for a variation of 20 points. Some tests measure only glucose sugar and other tests measure additional substances with a similar chemical action.

Blood sugar levels vary in normal people. By most methods a fasting value of 125 is acceptable. The value will be elevated by anxiety or stress. If only one test is done the best test is two hours after eating a high carbohydrate meal. This will show how the body handles sugar. Diabetics often have a normal fasting blood sugar.

A common problem in blood sugar measurements is the unprepared patient. I don't know how many people I have seen misdiagnosed as diabetics for this reason. If you don't eat carbohydrates the body needs less insulin to metabolize carbohydrates and simply produces less. Then if you are loaded with sugar for a sugar test there won't be enough insulin and the test will give a diabetic response. After eating a high carbohydrate diet for about three days, bread, potatoes and perhaps a couple of candy bars a day, the insulin production will become normal and the test will be normal. So it is not always wise to go on a diet to get your weight down just before you go to see the doctor.

One cholesterol test doesn't tell the story, BUT the higher the level the more likely one will develop fatty deposits in the arteries. Most heart specialists would prefer to see the value below 240 and would be happier if it were nearer 200 or below. Often the best treatment is a proper diet, that means restricting calories sufficiently to eliminate obesity. Exercise and limiting fat and cholesterol intake is also helpful.

The higher the cholesterol level the more likely it will be significantly lowered with a proper program. I am not an enthusiast for medicine to lower blood cholesterol. Most of these medicines cause undesirable side effects—they are, after all, poisons of a sort. I see no reason to give medicine when proper living habits will correct the situation. So you might see what you can do for yourself.

Soldier Back From Dead Lives Miracles

By TOM TIEDE

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another in a series of reports by Vietnam combat correspondent Tom Tiede on the prospects and problems of returning soldiers.)

COLUMBIA, S.C. — (NEA) — It was July of 1967, just three days before SP/4 Jacky C. Bayne's birthday. But he wasn't celebrating. He was the point man on a combat patrol in a hot, bushy field near Tay Ninh, Vietnam. He had an M-16 rifle in one hand and the leash of his police dog, Bruno, in the other.

Bruno's nose was on the dirt.

Bayne proceeded cautiously.

Then—boom! Something had gone wrong. The dog was supposed to be able to sniff out the powder in buried land mines. But perhaps the mine was too old to smell, or perhaps the dog just failed. In any event, Jacky Bayne was found pockmarked with shrapnel, floating in blood. There was no breathing, no pulse, no heartbeat.

He was dead.

Well, no, he wasn't either. He was sent to a morgue, his toe was tagged—but when an embalmer at Graves Registration cut into the soldier's groin (where embalming fluid is injected) a slight pulse was noticed in the femoral artery. The embalmer's reaction was not recorded. Probably: "My God, this one is still alive." Instantly, Bayne was dispatched to a nearby hospital where a feverish resuscitation effort and blood transfusions confirmed the embalmer's discovery.

Newspapers picked up the story. There were bold headlines of "Soldier Returns From the Dead." Bayne's parents were ecstatic with joy. And much of the nation was thankful that here was one Vietnam statistic to subtract from the sum.

But while the reading public was elated, Bayne's physicians were concerned. He had, after all, been sealed in a green plastic sack for an undetermined period, and also laid unattended in a morgue for several hours. The worry was that during this time his brain may have been deprived of oxygen long enough to do permanent mental damage. When Bayne arrived in the United States (Walter Reed Hospital) he was being kept alive mainly by medical diligence. At least one doctor believed that it was only a matter of time until he died legitimately.

Even when the soldier confronted the odds and clung to life, his doctors were pessimistic. He had lost part of his right leg, he had lost the use of his left leg, his entire left side was paralyzed, his weight had dropped from 170 to 70 pounds, and when he finally regained consciousness he could not talk, write or remember anything that had happened. One day Bayne's mother was told the boy would probably live, but he would never be more than an incoherent vegetable.

And so it evolves that the doctors have been wrong about Jacky C. Bayne not once but several times since that July afternoon in 1967. Because today he has to be one of the most stubborn, motivated and coherent vegetarians in the land.

Wheelchair, lucid, totally rosy, Bayne is back to normal weight and, as his surgeon says, "abnormal spirit." He was released from Walter Reed care several months ago, built a home with ramps instead of stairs, has become engrossed with a lengthy correspondence with a girl in Frankfurt, Germany ("I've got more girls now than I ever had"), and though he still can't walk is convinced that, as he says: "I'll be a coach some day. I always wanted to coach. And I still do. I think that when I start walking again, I'll be one."

To the casual observer, Bayne's buoyancy seems a bit Pollyannish. He is still paralyzed on one side, still confined to wheels for movement. Yet, considering his history, few would argue the chances of more miracles in

There is an old rhyme that dates back to the days of bridge. It goes: "Eight ever, nine never." This means with a combined holding of eight cards in a suit, you should always finesse for the queen while with nine, you should play for the drop.

That was a pretty good rule in bridge, since you would have little information about the division of the other suits. It is also a very good rule in contract, when you have obtained little or no information from the bidding or the early play. The "ever" part is generally correct when you hold eight but the "never" part when you hold nine is not too much of a good thing. The winning player should pay attention to the bidding in deciding what to do.

If today's hand were to be played in the final round of the blue ribbon pairs, the chances are that every South player would play and make four spades by finessing against East's queen.

The reason why all these experts would play for the 3-1 spade break is that they would assume that the vulnerable two-heart overcall showed a six-card suit. Therefore, East would have three more cards outside the heart suit than West would and the odds would favor a 3-1 trump break.

What do you do now?

A—Bid four diamonds. If you want to take full control, bid four no-trump, but four diamonds is better. In any event, you are on your way to a slam.

TODAY'S QUESTION

You bid four diamonds. Your partner bids four no-trump. You bid five hearts to show your aces and he bids five no-trump. What do you do now?

Answer Tomorrow

his future.

He is, in fact, working on one miracle at present. He checked into the Columbia V.A. hospital some weeks ago with the complaint that "I don't want to be tied to this wheelchair forever." His present surgeon, Dr. Narayan Deb Roy (from India), was sympathetic. So the pair of them worked out a complex, chancy, step-by-step procedure, to use a phrase which may ("may!") enable Bayne to walk again.

Recently, Dr. Deb Roy operated to halt an "involuntary tremble" in Bayne's left foot. Then he repaired tendons in the patient's arm so that the fingers of his hand will open and close (to hold a cane). These two procedures were designed to enable the Vietnam veteran to stand by himself out of his chair. Further surgery on his leg, it's hoped, will eventually enable Bayne to propel himself.

"We're hopeful, anyway," says Dr. Deb Roy, who adds that Bayne's attitude ("He's willing to work as hard as we ask"), is a good reason for medical optimism.

There is something else in Bayne's attitude that augurs well for his tomorrow. He's cheerful as hell. Though he has ample reason to be otherwise, though few would blame him if he were bitter, he refuses that tack. Instead, he describes himself as a good ole boy who "loves my country," who is "happy to have served in the Army," and who "doesn't worry about what's happened in the past."

"I don't remember anything about when I got banged up in Vietnam," he says, squirming, grinning. "I'm too busy living to think about when I was supposed to be dead."

PERSONAL FINANCE

Most homeowners, probably, believe that the insurance on the house will cover any amount of damage—from fire, say, or a tornado—up to the face amount of the policy. It isn't necessarily so, and often there's a hazardous gap between what the coverage seems to be, and what it actually is.

There's the recent case of a printing salesman who'd bought a $25,000 home in a midwestern suburb 10 years ago. It was insured to its full amount (he thought), with a $25,000 policy. A fire early this summer caused $10,000 damage to building and contents. No argument about that: the insurance adjuster agreed that replacement and repair would cost $10,000. Yet the owner's compensation was only $7,500. Why?

In one word: inflation. He was underinsured because, in his area, building costs had risen some 40 per cent in the past 10 years. To replace the house that he'd paid $25,000 for, 10 years ago, would today cost $35,000. Still, he did have a $25,000 policy. Why wouldn't it take care of $10,000 worth of damage?

Homeowner policies have an "80 per cent rule." If a house is insured for at least 80 per cent of its replacement value, you get full replacement in case of damage—replacement with "material of like kind and quality." If you're insured for less than 80 per cent, your claim is adjusted on the basis of depreciation.

In the case of the printing salesman, his house had a current replacement cost of $35,000. He needed a $28,000 policy to come within the 80 per cent rule. Since he was underinsured by $3,000, the value of the property destroyed by fire or damaged by smoke was reduced by 10 years' depreciation, which was put at 25 per cent. Thus the loss, by this calculation, was not $10,000 but $7,500.

Building costs—which determine replacement costs—have risen precipitously in the past couple of decades. Generally, they've more than doubled since 1950. Older homes are prone to be more underinsured, therefore, than those of recent vintage. But many newer houses have rapidly slipped below 80 per cent coverage.

One recent survey, says the "Journal of American Insurance," showed that 55 per cent of all insured homes were, by the 80 per cent rule, underinsured. And among

SMALL MEASURE

Of all things — a man measuring his religion with an eye-dropper. An eye-dropper is used to administer small doses of medicine but it is not proper in the realm of religion. The mercy of God is an ocean divine, a boundless and fathomless deep. An eye-dropper is much too small to convey riches so abundant. How unfortunate is that life that will attempt to take the bounties of God with an eye-dropper. Yet, there are those among us who are satisfied with second-hand religion... the kind a man gets when he attempts to let his wife do his church-going for him. God seeks to talk to all of us direct. Mister, He doesn't want your wife delivering yours via the eye-dropper. Go to church... listen to the Divine voice of God as He seeks to pour His infinite grace and goodness into your soul. Don't be satisfied with such small measure... an eye-dropper full.

Faith will overcome the most miserable circumstances

++ faith will light up your soul in the darkest night ++

Fighting VEE

Within a week after it was detected in Texas early in July, the invader from Latin America had killed scores of horses, made many humans ill and had become a problem of national concern. The invader is Venezuelan equine encephalomyelitis—VEE for very short—a virulent disease transmitted by mosquitoes and possibly other insects. The Southwest is the threatened area, but the campaign to control it is national, led by the Agricultural Department's Animal Health Division. Right, AHD veterinarian Dr. Lloyd C. Weldon takes a blood sample for analysis at laboratories in Denver and Atlanta.

Drs. Oscar Claybaugh and William Lowry, above, spot on a map of Texas all confirmed VEE cases in reports of sick and dead horses. Right, Animal Health personnel at the Agricultural Research Center in Beltsville, Md., process VEE vaccine for shipment to affected areas. All reports of ill horses are checked out. Below, Dr. Weldon and anxious observers watch a colt with typical symptoms.

Commission Funds Are Contained

WASHINGTON (AP) — Funds to continue the Ozarks Regional Commission were contained in a $3.9 billion regional and bill signed Thursday by President Nixon.

The bill authorizes appropriations to boost the economy in six regions of the country, including the Ozarks region, but most of the money will go to

Reporter Kicked, Told to Leave

MARIANNA, Ark. (AP)—Bill Husted of Little Rock, a reporter for the Arkansas Democrat said he was kicked and told to get out of town Thursday as he talked to two Negroes on a downtown street corner at Marianna.

Husted was in Marianna to cover the trial of Lee County Judge Haskell Adams on charges of assault and possession of a prohibited weapon. Adams pleaded no contest to the charges and was fined $100.

Husted said he was talking to Printiss Neal and Rabon E. Checks, the two blacks who had brought the charges against Adams.

Husted said Neal was telling him it was his understanding there was a reward for his killing.

At this point, Husted said, one of the group of about 20 whites surrounding him and the Negroes muttered an expletive. "I turned to the man and said, 'Is it true you would like to kill this man?'" Husted said.

Husted quoted the man as saying "It is not him we want, it's you."

"At this point, I said, 'You mean you want to hurt me?'" Husted said another member of the crowd yelled, "You (reporters) are the ones causing all of the trouble."

At this point, Husted said, another member of the crowd of whites kicked him. He said the man told him he "had better get out of town fast."

Husted said he left town immediately.

Graham Pleads Innocent

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Daniel Lon Graham, 31, of Springdale pleaded innocent Thursday to charges of first-degree murder and armed robbery in connection with the fatal shooting of one of two employees killed during the robbery of a Springdale supermarket Juhe 16.

The charges were filed against Graham Thursday morning. Graham, an inmate at Cummins Prison Farm, was transferred to Fayetteville Thursday for arraignment.

Circuit Court Judge Maupin Cummings appointed John Lineberger to serve as Graham's attorney.

After entering the plea, Lineberger and Graham conferred for about 40 minutes Thursday afternoon, returned to the courtroom and asked for a preliminary hearing. Cummings denied the motion for the hearing.

No bond was set. Graham was returned to Arkansas last Friday from Michigan where he was arrested for escape from Cummins. He had escaped May 31 and was free at the time of the robbery of the Springdale store.

He had been serving a life sentence for kidnapping a DeWitts Banker's wife.

Graham was only charged with one of two murders that occurred following the robbery of the Safeway store at Springdale. He allegedly robbed the store and then drove three employees to a country road and shot all three.

Draft Lottery Covers Two Million Youths

By JERRY T. BAULCH
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The nearly two million men turning 19 this year have their draft lottery numbers today, but the suspense isn't over for all of them.

Assuming Congress re-establishes the government's authority to press young men into military service, callups will proceed next year according to a table established Thursday when all 1962 birthdays were assigned priority numbers by lot.

But nobody at this point knows what number will be the cutoff date and draft officials won't make a public guess.

Draft Director Curtis W. Tarr did say that draft calls this year are significantly below last year, when 196 was the cutoff and next year, he said, "We expect that draft calls will be even lower."

Men with numbers up to 100 probably will be called unless exempted or deferred. But barring an emergency, men in the 200s and 300s can assume they won't be called. That leaves men in the 100s still in uncertainty.

The lottery, streamlined this year, took two hours, beating the 3½ hours it took last year.

Capsules containing birthdays were drawn from a plastic drum, and were matched up with priority numbers in capsules drawn from another drum.

Number one was matched on the 360th draw with Dec. 4. The highest, the therefore safest, number, 366, was matched with Nov. 1 on the 339th draw.

Five of the six "youth advisers" who took turns picking capsules are interns working in Selective Service headquarters. Last year there were more than 100 from several states.

This is the third lottery and does not affect men older than those who turn 19 this year. The men who received numbers last year and the year before keep them as long as they're subject to the draft, normally until age 26.

Similarly, those in this year's lottery will keep their numbers. But barring an emergency, those who are not deferred and are not drafted next year during their exposure to the callup process automatically drop into a less draft-vulnerable category.

Those deferred get their exposure in the year they lose the deferment, using the numbers they drew Thursday.

NO PORTABLE TV'S?

VIENNA (AP) — Each day a two-and-a-half ton truck makes the rounds to yards of the city-owned public transportation system to gather things which passengers leave on busses and streetcars.

It is a run-of-the-mill item, an umbrella, the lost and found department also listed dozens of dental plates and glasses. One person even forgot a wrapped-up washing machine.

YOUTH BEAT

The National Report on What's Happening

HARRISON: OUT OF A BOX—The room was crowded with people milling about waiting to talk with George Harrison, Ringo Starr and Ravi Shankar. Harrison and Shankar entered the room amid the clicking and grinding of still and TV cameras.

Ringo didn't make it because he's still in Spain filming his movie, "Blindman." Harrison and Shankar talked about two concerts planned for the benefit of Bengali refugees from East Pakistan. For those who were unable to attend the concerts, take heart in the fact that George and Ravi will probably have a record and maybe even a film of them.

The purpose of the concerts, according to George, was "to generate money for the cause and to bring about an awareness to the mass of people."

When asked about the split of the Beatles, George said carefully that he had some regrets, but it was also good in some ways. "We were in a box and had to break out eventually. I couldn't be a section musician all my life. I had a lot to write. I wanted to do my own music."

When asked what he's been doing, George replied, "I'm still learning how to play the guitar."

YOUTH POWER—Hugh Hoepfner of Scranton, Pa., wrote to Youthbeat about the death of rock, social revolution and the youth culture in general. One part of his statement is concerned with the end of the "turned off generation."

Huge waste: "Young people today are going to face up to air pollution, animal slaughter, dirty politics, corporate corruption, pouring millions of yards of concrete, damming up every running stream, huge and overdone automobiles, nonrelevant schools and all the rest of it."

Americans Spend $105 Billion for Medical Care, No Relief Seen

By G. C. THELEN Jr.
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans will spend at least $105 billion for medical care in 1974 and even the most ambitious proposal for federal health insurance would add less than $12 billion to the bill, according to a government study.

A key finding of the survey was that none of the 12 legislative health reform plans analyzed would increase the nation's medical cost by more than 11 per cent, although they vary widely on what portion the government would pay. This could turn the political debate on health insurance away from expense and toward other differences in the various reform proposals.

The statistical analysis by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare found that without any alteration of the present system national health expenditures in fiscal 1974 are likely to be $105.4 billion, some 40 per cent more than in the fiscal year just ended.

Enactment of President Nixon's plan to provide employer- and government-subsidized private health insurance for most Americans would increase the $105.4-billion figure by $1.8 billion, the study showed.

If Congress instead chose the cradle-to-grave plan of government health insurance proposed by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., and organized labor, the increase was set at $8.4 billion throughout.

The Kennedy plan was estimated to increase federal taxes $59.4 billion but reduce out-of-pocket and private insurance expenses $46 billion because government insurance would pay most medical bills.

By contrast, the Nixon plan would cost $2.6 billion in increased taxes but not change $62 billion in projected private-sector bills in 1974.

The study examined all health-insurance proposals introduced in Congress before April 30. The plans were compared according to what each would cost if it were in full effect during the 1974 fiscal year.

The statistical survey was undertaken at the request of several members of Congress, including Chairman Wilbur D. Mills of the House Ways and Means Committee.

It showed the American Medical Association's plan for tax credits to encourage purchase of private health insurance, would increase 1974 health costs about $4.1 billion and increase federal taxes $6.3 billion.

Youth Blames Friend for Killing

DEWITT, Ark. (AP) — The first-degree murder trial of Joe N. Kagebien, 15, of DeWitt was expected to go to the jury early this afternoon.

The defense rested its case Thursday afternoon and closing arguments were to begin this morning.

Kagebien and three other youths are charged with the slaying last November of Jimmy Wayne Wampler, a 27-year-old Wynne rice farmer.

The others charged, but not being tried with Kagebien, are Larry L. Mannis, 17, Bennie West, 16, and Teddy R. Kittler, 16, all of DeWitt.

Kagebien took the stand in his own defense Thursday and testified that he saw Wampler die on a county road near DeWitt, but did not kill him.

He said that it was Kittler who shot Wampler with a 16-gauge shotgun.

"We all four hit him," Kagebien said. "We all four held a gun on him, but Teddy Kittler shot him."

Kagebien said that Wampler was alive when Kittler fired the shot.

The youth also testified the four had been drinking beer most of the afternoon and evening of the shooting.

He said he went to sleep and was not awake when the group met Wampler in a wooded area. West was also called to testify Thursday, but his attorney, Milton Robinson, ordered the youth not to answer questions.

Congress All Set for a Vacation

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress planned to embark on a month-long summer vacation today after Senate action on a measure to keep federal agencies in business until Oct. 15.

A House-passed resolution to fund departments for which regular money bills remain unpassed was the most vital of a series of measures scheduled for action in the Senate.

The House planned only a brief session with nothing on the calendar before shutting for the recess which will run until Sept. 8, two days after Labor Day.

The Senate cleared the decks for the recess in a late session Thursday that saw passage of a landmark campaign-spending reform bill and postponement until Sept. 13 of renewed debate on the draft-extension bill and its watered-down call for U.S. withdrawal from Vietnam.

It also passed a military construction authorization measure and a bill to permit areas with high unemployment to get the same kind of relief as areas struck by floods, hurricanes or other natural disasters.

But for the second straight night, it put aside a multi-billion-dollar bill to extend aid for higher education and vocational education amid a behind-the-scenes jurisdictional dispute over Indian education that could put the entire bill off until after the recess.

The education bill was put on today's schedule along with a $1-billion measure providing funds for up to 173,000 public-service jobs.

Also up for action: the compromise version of a $20.8-billion money bill for the departments of Labor and Health, Education and Welfare, that is $81 million above President Nixon's budget. The House passed the bill Thursday.

The House, which completed most of its work Wednesday, wound up congressional action Thursday on a measure extending the life of the Export-Import Bank and relaxing restrictions on exports to Communist countries. The vote was 219 to 140.

Although the continuing-appropriations resolution was put off until the last minute, the appropriations situation is much better than in recent years.

In addition to the Labor-HEW measure, eight of the 14 regular money bills have been enacted. A 10th measure, with public works funds, has passed both houses and is awaiting action by conferees.

CALI, Colombia (AP) — U.S. volleyball stars, ticketed for Olympic trials next week in Communist Cuba, have been promised a "warm reception" in Havana.

"Now is the time to lift all barriers," said Gonzalez Guerra, president of the Cuban Olympic Committee, "that prevent North American sportsmen from playing in Cuba where all athletes are received with open arms."

The U.S. State Department gave its okay Thursday for Yankee participation in the event on Castro's island beginning Aug. 13 that will decide the hemisphere's entries for the 1972 Olympic Games in Munich.

Guerra then expressed hope at the Pan American Games' site that U.S. officials would also allow an American team to enter the Amateur Baseball World Series scheduled Nov. 5-Dec. 5 in Havana.

Contacted earlier in the week, assistant coach Ron Fraser of the USA's Pan Am baseball team said the United States "Will not go to Havana for the Amateur World Series."
